

AN EMPLOYMENT LAW MASTERCLASS FOR 2018

Event summary

Simkins' Employment Law Masterclass 2018 is a half-day seminar, focusing on the most relevant employment law issues for HR practitioners and business managers in the coming year.

Topics covered

The Masterclass will be run by our expert team of employment lawyers, together with experienced barrister, Laura Farris from Littleton Chambers. We will take you through the below topics, focusing on the key legal issues and practical implications for employers:

- Whistleblowing and recent developments
- Potential employment law implications of Brexit
- GDPR and data protection in the employment context
- Modern slavery law and the requirement to publish modern slavery statements
- Recap of significant employment law developments in 2017
- What to expect in 2018

Who should attend?

This seminar is aimed at HR professionals and managers responsible for their business' HR function.

If you are interested in attending, please send your name, company name, position held and a contact email address to nicola.wells@simkins.com for further details.

Places are limited so do register your interest as soon as possible to avoid any disappointment.

Event details

When: Thursday 18 January 2018

Time: 8.30 am – 9.00 am breakfast and registration

9.00 am – 12.30 pm presentations

12.30 pm – 1.00 pm networking

Where: Simkins LLP, Lynton House, 7-12 Tavistock Square, London WC1H 9LT

Price: £150* plus VAT

*Early booking discount: £125 if booked before 15 December 2017

